THOSE WHO DO THEIR BEST.

"You'll find, in life, one thing, my boy," said Uncle Hiram, low.
An' weighin' each word carefully, "there's haste in goin' slow;
I trust you'll never grow too big to ruminate with care
On that old fable mentionin' the tortoise an' the hare.
An' recollect, my boy, that fame an' fortune isn't all
That spells success—it's shoutin' 'Here!' when Duty deigns to call.
I say, although no laurel wreath upon his brow may rest,
The fellow's doin' mighty well who always does his best.
"Perhaps he'll never walk wealth's road, perhaps he'er scale fame's heights,
But then he'll keep his conscience clear, an' likely rest well nights,
For those who've fought with main an' might where those less strong had quailed,
Though folsome glory be not theirs, it can't be said they've failed.
Achievement isn't always writ large-lettered on one's brow,
While simple peace an' sweet content oft lowly lives endow.
An' so, I'd say, though on his brow no laurel wreath's been pressed,
The feller's doin' mighty well who always does his best."
—Roy Farrell Greene.

PLAYED NICK CARTER

But Didn't Happen to Fall Into a Tank of Water

John Green, a colored lad aged about 12, was one of the thousands who saw Nick Carter, the high diver who was here last week with the Robinson Amusement Company, do his act in Limestone street.

John thought he would try to do the act near his home in East Fourth street, so he took a tub, filled it with water, placed it beneath a six-foot stonewall, got on top of the wall, fixed his hands just like Nick, made a few wild waves with his hands to the crowd of spectators below—two small colored girls and three boys—and made the jump head first.

Instead of striking the tub he fell into a pile of rocks, and it took Dr. Browning in a big open lot about one hour to patch his head.

He is getting along all right this morning.

BAD WRECK

Dining and Sleeping Car On C. and O. Block the Track

Yesterday afternoon about 1:40, as the second section of C. and O. train No. 2 was passing Stony Point, about one and one-half miles East of Augusta, the rear sleeping car jumped the track, also derailing the dining car that was following it.

The train was a special for Newport News, having on board a party of Cincinnatians, and was composed of a combination car, three sleepers and a dining car.

At the time the accident happened the train was running pretty fast, and no one was in the dining car save the employes, three of whom, J. M. Hill, J. W. Backet and F. L. Jetter, were seriously bruised and cut by being thrown against the tables, while a gentleman from Cincinnati was the only passenger injured, which was very slight.

The two sleepers and combination car went on to Huntington, where an additional sleeper and a diner were picked up.

Traffic was blocked about six hours, a temporary track having been built around the two wrecked cars to allow the resumption of business.

REMARKABLE HAPPENING

Two Men Badly Cut in a Crowd and No One Saw It

Yesterday afternoon about 5:30 a most remarkable happening took place in Oliver Greenlee's saloon at the corner of Second and Wall streets that can hold its own as the eighth wonder of the world.

Matt Pearce and William Helmer, the latter the barkeeper for Mr. Greenlee, were cut about the head and face, Mr. Helmer being dangerously wounded, while several persons who were there suddenly become blind at the time the men were being wounded and no one saw it, one man not even knowing Mr. Greenlee.

The facts are unobtainable, but the following was gleaned in an interview with Mr. Pearce when seen at his home in Pfister avenue last night about 8:30.

He has a wound near the top of his head and several other wounds on his face and arm, the one on his head being a very ugly one.

Mr. Pearce claimed that the wound on his head was made by his being struck there with a pair of brass knucks by Mr. Helmer.

When asked what Mr. Helmer struck him for, he replied that it was a dispute over about 15 cents, Helmer claiming that Pearce had not paid it, while Pearce maintaining that he had. Pearce then refused to tell anything more about the affair, stating that he did not care to have any newspaper notoriety.

Mr. Oliver Greenlee, the proprietor of the saloon where the fracas happened, was at supper, and only knew what he had heard someone say about it, which was that Helmer was attempting to put Pearce out of the saloon, when both of them fell through a glass door or window, Helmer's forehead striking against the sharp edge of the broken glass, cutting a long gash from the center of his forehead to one of his ears, which was split open, and severing an artery in his temple.

It is thought the wound was made with either a razor or a knife, as it does not look reasonable that the cut could be made by the glass in the shape it is. Besides, the edge of the wound is even, and had it been made by coming in contact with the glass it would more than likely make an uneven edge.

He came near bleeding to death before Dr. W. S. Yazell could get to him and stop the flow of blood, after which he lapsed into unconsciousness. He is in a dangerous condition. He was removed to his uncle's across the street from the saloon.

Mr. Helmer's condition this morning is improved, and it is thought by careful attention he will be able to get out in a short time.

Pearce, it is said, left town last night by steamboat, he having returned his key to Mr. Ed Whittington, where he was employed.

The whole affair will be aired in the Police Court before Judge Whitaker as soon as the parties are able to appear.

WANTS VINDICATION

Former Matron of Oddfellow's Home Appeals to the Order

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Clay, the deposed Matron of the Oddfellows Widows and Orphans Home in Lexington, who was recently removed by order of the Board of Control of the Home, has addressed a letter to the Oddfellows of Kentucky in which she recites the work accomplished by her during the seven years she had charge of the institution, and tells how her efforts to build up the home were crowned with success. She complains bitterly of the action of the Board in removing her, without acquainting her with the charges made against her.

Mrs. Clay says she has made repeated efforts to get both the Secretary and President of the Board to give her a copy of the testimony secured by the Committee, but to each of these requests she says she was told that the matter could not even be read by the Grand Masters, Past Grand Masters, Noble Grands or any Oddfellow in the state not a member of the Board.

The removal of Mrs. Clay was the result of alleged friction between her and Prof. Swift, who for the past year was in charge of the boys of the Home.

The letter by Mrs. Clay has caused a sensation in Lodge circles, and it is said a movement will be made by her friends in the Lodge in Lexington to ascertain if possible the nature of the charges which resulted in her dismissal.

ABOUT a year ago the city bought a Steam Roller for street-making. One block and a half in Market street, a quarter block in Third street, two blocks in Limestone street,—none of these done properly—and tearing up the curbstones in Second West of Wall, is the record to date. Is the Roller to be retired and sold for junk?

THIS is the weather that perspires the members of Maysville's largest Union—the "Sons of Rest,"—whose Walking Delegates are sleeping overtime on the cool iron settees 'neath the shade of the umbrageous poplars on the Esplanade, lulled by the symphony of the silvery waters as they descend to the basin of the Fountain, the home of brickbats and old boot-heels.

"CIVIL SERVICE" is a wonderful thing. When the Maysville Postoffice was run under the "spoils system," the expense for Clerk Hire was $1,600 a year. Then the Sunday mail was distributed inside of an hour after its arrival. Now that Civil Service prevails, the cost for Clerk Hire is $3,700 a year, and it takes two hours to distribute the Sunday mail. When the new Building is finished, and there's more room for more Clerks, with a consequent addition of several hundred dollars for Clerk Hire, it will probably take four hours to distribute the mails.

WHAT has become of the city's $3,000 Steam Roller and the good streets that it was to make?

THE teamsters strike in Chicago is on the eve of settlement some more. In the matter of lives, it puts the cat out of business.

THE LEDGER doesn't make a practice of "dunning" delinquent subscribers through its columns; but it's enough to make a fellow swear when he sees a man working the slot-machine in full swing instead of paying the three or four years subscription that he owes.

JOHN C. DRISCOLL, former Secretary of the Coal Team Owners Association of Chicago, says that in four years he has paid over $80,000 to Chicago Labor Union leaders for the purpose of either averting or ending strikes. Of course, the "rank and file" of the Union men never got a smell of any of the shining dollars, not is it at all likely that they even knew of the "graft" that was going on in their names; but such a state of affairs fully confirms THE LEDGER's repeated assertions that present-day Labor Unions, especially in Chicago, are dominated by as unprincipled men as can be found outside the walls of a Penitentiary—the Walking Delegates who draw princely salaries, wear diamonds, drink champagne and smoke twenty-cent cigars at the expense of the real workingmen. When will honest labor awake to a realization of the crimes that are committed in its name, and shake off the dreadful incubus?

Writing under date of Sept. 7, 1904, Mrs. Mattie Shaffer, of Cumberland, Miss., says: "Some time ago I ordered and received your wonderful Cuticura Remedies, which I used on my little afflicted babe with wonderful results. I had tried many other remedies without any benefit whatever, and Cuticura came to the rescue when my doctors and all other remedies had failed. One doctor pronounced it scrofula, the other eczema. The little one was one solid sore, with scales and scabs from head to foot, when I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The result was wonderful, and now my baby's face and body are smooth and clear."

THE DUTY OF MOTHERS At the First Sign of Disfiguring Humors Is to Use Cuticura.

Every child born into the world with an inherited tendency to torturing, disfiguring humors of the Skin and Scalp, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering, but because of the dreadful fear that the disfigurement is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz.: the Cuticura Treatment, consisting of warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure. Cures made in childhood are speedy, permanent, and economical.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, are sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chemical Co., Boston, Sole Importers. Send for "How to Cure Disfiguring Humors."

THE END OF IT

Burley Tobacco Growers' Association Will Not Be Reorganized

The efforts recently made by the Ways and Means Committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Company to form a plan whereby the Association could be reorganized, and another move made to control the output of tobacco grown this year, and which have so far failed of success, it is said, will be abandoned and the defunct company will not be revived. This is said to be due to the fact that it was found impossible to get the growers of tobacco to again support the movement by pledging their crops to the company until a certain time, after which they were to be released from their contracts in case the company failed to raise the capital sufficient to finance the deal.

According to a statement made by a prominent Fayette county grower, who has heretofore been identified with the movement, but who has declined to be further allied with the organization, fully one-half of the growers of the Burley District have refused to become allied with the movement this year, and as a result he says the scheme is dead and will not again be undertaken.

He said the fact that the growers who entered the association the past two years contracted to turn their crops over to the association made it almost impossible for them to dispose of their tobacco when it became known that the scheme had failed.

The great question of selecting an inkstand for Vice-President Fairbanks' use has been settled. Mr. Fairbanks has approved a design costing $500, to be paid out of the Senate's Contingent Fund. The vast forest areas of Russia in Europe, which cover nearly 500,000,000 acres, or 36% of the entire area of the country are aptly termed "wooden Russia." Few people who have not traveled through this part of the country can form any idea of the country's boundless wealth in timber. Houses built of any other material are entirely unknown outside of the great cities and wood constitutes the principal fuel. The forest belt in Siberia, called the "Taiga," stretches in a direct line from the Ural mountains to the Pacific for 4,000 miles and is in many parts 500 miles broad. This is all the property of the Czar.

"My Own Story!"

REVIEW IN PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER.

"My Own Story," by Caleb Powers, is the statement of the most interested person in the criminal political situation which has now extended over six years in Kentucky. Powers has thrice been convicted, and is now to have his fourth trial, though it is uncertain whether it will be in the Federal or State Court. This narrative has been published in part in The Reader Magazine, but is embellished with many photographs and with an appendix containing about all the material that can be secured to give those on the defensive an idea of the situation as it appears in the Courts.

According to Powers, he is an innocent man who is made a stalking horse whereby the Democrats of Kentucky may maintain the ascendancy which they stole through the infamous Goebel Law. We think that no honest man can read this book without coming to the same opinion. The writer of this notice makes this statement because he is a Kentuckian, reared near Powers' home, cognizant of all the facts in the case, and believing that the conspiracy new in Kentucky is one which is a disgrace to civilization. As an ardent Kentuckian, as one who feels that he has disassociated himself from any of the prejudices in the case, and as an American citizen, he feels that the Powers matter is one that bulks so largely in the fundamental history of the country and in its philosophy that it seems impossible to believe that he will be convicted unless much more is brought to view than has been thus far vouchsafed.

Ordinarily, it would hardly be within the purview of this column to go into this affair. We might dismiss the book with a few remarks, but as it is a case that is of interest to every American we simply call attention to the leading phases. The election of the Republican ticket in 1899 was undisputed on the popular vote and on the returns as passed by the Commissioners. It so happened that one Goebel, who was born in Lebanon county, this state, and who had secured the passage of an infamous law to overrule the will of the people, made a contest and attempted to put Taylor out of office. He was induced to do this, so it is said, by the advice and aid of the leaders of the Democratic party and rather against his own will. He was a confessed murderer and felt that he could not go into Court with clean hands. He was killed during the contest, with the result that Beckham was chosen as incumbent and was re-elected, so that for six years there has been in the minds of Republicans no properly elected Governor of Kentucky.

Goebel was shot down, and there has never been any evidence sufficient to hang a cat that would decide who was responsible. There are more liars in Kentucky than was supposed possible. There are men in authority who ought to be in jail. The actual facts are that several men have been convicted of complicity with the affair and some have suffered imprisonment. The state paid $100,000 for testimony which is believed to have been largely perjured. It is claimed that the Judge who conducted some of the trials was a modern Jefferey, and as he has been promoted to the Court of last resort there is not much prospect ahead of Powers unless he gets to the Federal Courts, as is hoped by his counsel.

The facts are that Caleb Powers was born of a Kentucky mountain family and was gifted beyond most of his fellows. He went to a College, as it was called in his section, and afterwards studied law. He had a love of politics and succeeded in being elected County Superintendent of Schools and finally as Secretary of State on the ticket with Taylor. The rest is history. Taylor is thought by many people in the North to have shown a lack of discretion in the way he handled his contest. This may be so, but it is only fair to say that they do things in Kentucky in a very curious manner, and it may be that Taylor did the best he could.

After the murder of Goebel and the seating of Beckham, Taylor fled to Indiana, where he has since been in asylum. Powers was arrested as accessory to the murder, though it was never claimed that he was a principal. The truth is not yet clear, but there has been so much perjury, so much subornation of perjury, such an utter lack of even the forms of judicial action, that every one of a sane mind holds to the belief that Powers was innocent. He is soon to be tried for the fourth time, and this time he is judged murdered if there is any chance to do so in Kentucky. The fact is that there is no honest man without prejudice who thinks that Powers has been shown guilty. The book which he has written is not only an interesting narrative on the basis of what he has passed through, but it shows a state of social conditions which is disgusting to Americans. Kentucky is still nominally in the Union. She forms one of the strong states in the Nation, but she has been going astray of late and ought to come to herself in time to save from the gallows a sturdy young man who apparently is honest.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says news has reached the Russian capital from Dodsadjan, Manchuria, saying that the Russians have recaptured Liao Yang and Sumienchen, from which they were driven Friday by the Japanese.

Cuban Diarrhea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish War know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors, but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by all Druggists.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

HEALTH IS THE FIRST ESSENTIAL
It Helps Women to Win and Hold
Men's Admiration, Respect and Love

Woman's greatest gift is the power to inspire admiration, respect, and love.
There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown

To be a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, should be a woman's constant study.
At the first indication of ill-health, painful or irregular menstruation,
headache or backache, secure Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

Mrs. Chas. F. Brown, Vice-President
Mothers' Club, 21 Cedar Terrace, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For nine years I dragged through a miserable existence, suffering with inflammation and falling of the womb, and worn out with pain and weariness. I once noticed a statement by a woman suffering as I was, but who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I determined to try it.
At the end of three months I was a different woman. Every one remarked about it, and my husband fell in love with me all over again. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound built up my entire system, cured the womb trouble, and I felt like a new woman.
I am sure it will make every suffering woman strong, well and happy, as it has me."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucor-rhea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THAT'S THE LEDGER.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says—
"A newspaper whose columns overflow with the advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor will locate where there is enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as newspapers well patronized, and this power should be appreciated."

Maysville Has Found It Hard to Shake Off.

Hard to bear, harder to get rid of,
Is any itching skin complaint,
Eczema or Itching Piles.
Doan's Ointment relieves and cures
All itches of the skin.
Maysville people endorse this statement:
Mrs. Kate Poth, living at the corner of Clark street and Forest avenue; Maysville, Ky., says:
"I gave a statement about Doan's Ointment which was published in our Maysville papers.
I said that I had received most decided benefit from the use of this remedy, procured at J. Jas.
Wood & Son's Drugstore. For a long time I had an itching or eczema on the scalp. It broke out in spots and sometimes the spots would appear on my forehead and temples. The itching was particularly troublesome just before a rain and was then so intense that I could not sleep at night. It required only a short use of Doan's Ointment to cure the trouble, and the cure has been lasting for the past five years. There has never been even an indication of a recurrence.
A friend of mine also had eczema and tried everything for it but never found anything to remove the annoyance. On my recommendation she used Doan's Ointment and was absolutely cured."
